Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Tuesday will be a mainly dry and bright day with a fair amount of sunshine for most places. However, there will be scattered showers across northern and eastern Britain which could be heavy at times during the afternoon. It will feel cool in the north, and elsewhere when the sun goes in.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
It will be rather cool and cloudy with occasional outbreaks of rain on Wednesday and Thursday, although it will always be a little drier and brighter towards the south. Temperatures will be a little below average for the time of year with chilly nights, especially in the north.
