Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
The day will start grey for many, with mist and locally dense fog slowly lifting through the morning. Most places will be sunnier and warmer by the afternoon, although some light rain and thicker cloud is expected across northwest Scotland. With light winds it will feel warm in the sunshine, with temperatures above the seasonal average.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Northwestern parts will be mostly cloudy and windy with outbreaks of rain at times. Elsewhere it will generally be dry with some sunshine at times. It will turn breezier through Saturday, with further rain and cloudy conditions in the northwest.
