++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A rather wet day across northern Britain, with outbreaks of rain spreading from Northern Ireland across most of Scotland and parts of northern England by the afternoon. Sunny spells and a few blustery showers further south. Windy everywhere, especially in northern areas.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Monday will be very windy across the country with gales in places, especially across northwestern areas where there may be severe gales for a time. Early rain will clear England and Wales, but perhaps persisting in northwest Britain all day. By Tuesday, the winds will have eased in the south but will still remain strong in the north.
