Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A showery morning is expected over western Scotland while Cornwall and parts of Devon are likely to be cloudy, with the possibility of some rain in the far southwest. Showers should die out and cloud clear in the afternoon. Elsewhere, dry with good spells of sunshine.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

A fine start on Thursday, then cloud and rain spreading across Northern Ireland and Scotland, reaching northern England and Wales in the evening and followed by showers in the northwest. A wet start over England and Wales on Friday, becoming drier and brighter later. Otherwise, windy with showers in the northwest.
