++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Overnight mist and fog will clear and most places will have a dry day with sunny periods. The main exceptions to this are Northern Ireland and parts of Scotland where there will be light showers. There will also be showers in southeast England. These will be light at first but merge to give heavy, perhaps thundery rain by the evening.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Many parts will be dry with sunny spells on Friday, these conditions spreading east as rain clears during the day although there may be some light showers in the north and west. It remains largely dry and sunny on Saturday.
