++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A windy day in the north and west tomorrow, with gales possible at times across parts of Scotland. Some early brightness here, but cloud and further rain returning later. Otherwise, a breezy day across England and Wales, although drier and brighter with some spells of sunshine.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

There will be rain for some to start with on Monday, although the skies will brighten through the day leaving a mix of sunshine and occasional showers. The winds will ease and temperatures will take a tumble by Tuesday. Northern counties will see a scattering of showers whilst southern parts will remain dry.
