Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a cloudy start across the UK, with outbreaks of rain affecting many western and some southern parts. These will spread steadily east through the day, with heavy rain affecting southern and eastern England, as well as northwestern Scotland. However, as this clears through it will be replaced by drier and brighter conditions from the west.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Friday will be a generally drier and brighter day, with just a few light showers. Saturday will see further sunshine and showers, with these chiefly across western parts of the UK. However, it will feel fresher than recently on both days.
