++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be cloudy today with brisk winds and rain gradually spreading eastwards across the UK. Some heavy, persistent rain is possible in northwestern parts, whilst the southeast may be bright and fairly warm for a time, perhaps not seeing any significant rain until the evening. It will stay cloudy and breezy overnight with further rain and drizzle for most.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

Wednesday will be cloudy with patchy light rain and drizzle at first, but should become drier across many parts, perhaps with some warm sunny spells developing. Thursday will be generally brighter with only patchy rain and showers. Remaining breezy throughout.
