++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will start fairly cloudy in Scotland and parts of northern England, with some light rain or showers, but a brighter start further south for Wales and the Midlands. However, cloud and persistent rain will move into the southwest during the morning, which will then spread to most parts of England and Wales by the end of the day.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

The persistent cloud and rain continues for Scotland, Northern Ireland and much of Northern England, and also feeling cool here in northeasterly winds. Meanwhile, further south it should be brighter with some sunshine, but with scattered heavy, and possibly thundery showers.
