Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be a frosty start for many with plenty of sunshine through the day, although cloudier in East Anglia and the southeast. Also turning cloudy in the northwest ahead of some strong winds and rain arriving in the afternoon. Rain will spread across the UK from the northwest overnight, becoming clearer and colder in the north with some showers.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Cloudy with light rain in the south, brighter, windier in the north with blustery showers. Improving in the south to become a dry afternoon. Blustery showers continue in the north through Friday; cloudy and milder in the south with rain.
