

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Thursday 09 Oct 2014

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be windy in the south to start with showers already in western parts. Showers will be heavy and thundery in places and will push eastwards, possibly becoming long lasting in the north. The best of the sunny spells will be in the southeast but some showers will arrive here later before becoming confined to the southwest overnight.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Further showers will run in from the southwest on both days, becoming locally heavy. There will be sunny spells in between these with the best of the sunshine most likely in the northeast. The winds will be lighter than today.
