Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Locally heavy rain will be clearing the southeast during the morning, whilst elsewhere will see bands of showers pushing through during the day, some locally heavy with a risk of thunder but also sunny intervals. Becoming drier in the south in the afternoon. Windy with gales in the north.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

A mixture of sunny spells and showers on Saturday, some again locally heavy with a risk of thunder, especially in the north. However, an area of showery rain is expected to spread in on Sunday across many parts, although sunny spells and scattered showers in the north. Lighter winds.
