Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A grey start for many on Monday morning, especially inland and near northeast coasts, however becoming much brighter with plenty of sunshine by the afternoon. However, always more cloud across northern and eastern Scotland, as well as northeast England. Feeling reasonably warm in the sunshine, but tempered by a brisk easterly wind across southern England again.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Many southern and western areas seeing further sunny spells on Tuesday after another grey start. Cloudier elsewhere, with the odd spot of drizzle across northern Scotland. More generally cloudy on Wednesday, again thick enough in places for the odd spot of drizzle. Feeling cooler.
