++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Outbreaks of rain over parts of the Midlands and central southern England will spread northeast, into eastern England, with brighter skies following.
Elsewhere, mainly dry and bright with some sunny spells for a time in the south, but scattered showers will develop over northern Britain and a narrow band of rain will spread east later. Becoming windy in the west.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Turning very unsettled nationwide with bright spells and blustery showers on Monday, some heavy and locally thundery. Becoming wet and windy on Tuesday with heavy rain for most places, especially in the west, where there will be gales in places.
