Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be fine and dry for many tomorrow and it should also feel warmer with much lighter winds. However, it will still be breezy and rather cloudy across northwest Scotland, with a few light showers possible, mainly during the morning.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Thursday will be another fine day for many with some warm sunny spells. However, there will be some patchy rain in northwest at times. Friday will be very warm in the southeast, though a risk of thunderstorms grows later in the day. Elsewhere will see some sunny spells, but further rain is possible in the northwest.
