Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
A wet and windy start for most of England and Wales but brighter weather with showers will spread from the west reaching southeast England by about mid afternoon. Showers will become heavy and frequent across northern and western parts of Britain and a few will push well inland but some eastern parts will stay mainly dry with sunny spells. Windy throughout with gales in exposed areas but temperatures will be a degree or so above normal.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Sunny spells with scattered showers on Monday. England and Wales dry on Tuesday with some sun but rain will affect Scotland and Northern Ireland.
