++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
There will be some patchy cloud and sunny spells on Tuesday, especially in the northwest and southeast. A band of rain and drizzle will spread in from the southwest through the day and it will be a little milder generally than on recent days, with lighter winds.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
On Wednesday and Thursday it will be much milder and more unsettled than we've seen recently. Outbreaks of showery rain will move north-eastwards across the UK and the driest conditions are likely in south-eastern areas. We will lose the risk of overnight frosts too.
