Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be windy in the north today, with a band of rain slowly spreading south-eastwards into central parts. Meanwhile, low cloud and fog in the south-east will tend to lift and break, allowing some sunshine here later. The rain will continue across Wales and parts of England overnight. Elsewhere, there will be mostly dry with some clear spells.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Thursday will see the rain clear Wales, central and northern England during the morning, leaving patchy drizzle in the south. However, it will be breezy but drier in the north. Meanwhile, further spells of rain on Friday, though some sunshine too.
