Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
As we head into tomorrow, much of England and Wales will stay rather cloudy with some heavy and possibly thundery rain at times, perhaps giving local surface water flooding in the southwest. For Scotland and Northern Ireland though, it will be another rather sunny and warm day.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
The dry and fine weather continues in the northwest of the UK for Wednesday and Thursday. But for central and southern areas many will see a mixture of showers or longer spells of rain at times, before it turns drier on Thursday. Becoming cooler too, by the end of the week.
