Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 0700 on Wednesday 8 June 2005

 Valid for Broadcast at 0858 **

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow :
England and Wales will enjoy another dry and mainly sunny day.
Scotland and Northern Ireland will be cloudier with a little rain affecting northwestern regions and the odd light shower also possible elsewhere. Feeling warm in the sunnier inland areas but cooler near coasts and under cloud.
Tonight most places will remain dry but a little rain will continue to affect the northwest.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Warm sunny spells for many southern and western parts on Thursday while the north is cloudier with patchy drizzle. Friday, cloudier for many southern parts while the north brightens up but, again, most parts dry.
