++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Wednesday will be cloudy, with drizzle at first for some northern areas.
Brighter spells will develop here later in the day though. Sunny spells are likely for northern Scotland and for much of England and Wales, where it will turn very warm.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

It will be warm and humid across England and Wales on Thursday, and thunderstorms are possible. Some torrential downpours are likely, and lightning and hail may cause additional hazards. On Friday however, it will become drier and brighter. It will still be very warm for some, but rain will move into the north.
