++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most parts of the United Kingdom will have a dry day with sunny periods. There will be a few scattered light showers in Scotland and Northern Ireland, these perhaps spreading into northern England and Wales for a time. There is also a chance of scattered, locally sharp showers affecting southern counties of England.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Most parts of the UK will be dry on Monday with sunny spells and only very isolated light showers. Rain will spread into southeastern England later in the day, becoming heavy and continuing into Tuesday. However, the rest of the UK will remain largely dry on Tuesday.
