Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloud and rain across Northern Ireland and western Scotland will spread southwards to northern England and north and west Wales, and becoming occasionally heavy over the hills here with strong winds. Generally drier and brighter in central and southern areas with some sunny spells and lighter winds.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Rain and strong winds are expected for most parts on Tuesday, perhaps heavy over northern and western hills, with winds gusty at times. But drier in the far south. On Wednesday the south and east will be mainly dry and bright, but with further rain in the north. Becoming pleasantly warm.
