++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Sleet and snow across Wales and the Midlands should spread to eastern parts of England during the morning, and eventually clear by mid-afternoon. Rain and sleet showers are expected across southern counties and snow showers across parts of northern England. Elsewhere should be largely dry with bright or sunny spells. It will feel cold though, with light to moderate winds.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Rain should spread northeastwards on Monday, turning to snow across parts of the Midlands, central and eastern England. Sunny intervals are likely elsewhere. Drier overnight, but further rain, sleet and snow is expected to spread from the southwest on Tuesday.
