Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It'll be a grey start tomorrow, with extensive low cloud mist and fog across parts of England and Wales in particular. Through the day, much of the mist and fog will clear to leave most places fine and dry with some sunny spells. Feeling warm, with temperatures well above average for the time of year.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Conditions will remain settled for many into the new working week, with Monday and Tuesday seeing mainly dry weather with bright spells. It will remain mild, though mist and fog is still likely overnight. However, it'll turn more unsettled from the southwest later Tuesday evening.
