Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
There'll be an east - west split in the weather on Wednesday. It'll be a chilly start for eastern parts, but with plenty of sunshine through the morning. Western parts will start milder but cloudier, with some outbreaks of rain. This cloud and rain will slowly start to push eastwards, but the rain will be mostly light.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Rain in the northern half of the UK will turn heavy and prolonged over parts of Scotland. Further south it will be dry with sunny spells. On Friday, western parts will see light rain, while eastern parts will be dry with sunny spells.
