Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
There will be a mix of cloud and sunny spells across the UK, with northeast Scotland seeing the best of the sunshine and afternoon warmth. It will be generally cloudier than on Monday, but most places will still see some sunshine. Winds will be light and it will feel pleasant in any sunshine.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
It will remain fairly cloudy but largely dry on both days. Cloud amounts will gradually increase, but there will still be sunny spells for most, at times. However, Thursday night is likely to become windier, with a spell of rain possibly reaching the far west later.
