Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It'll be a wet and windy start, with largely overcast skies. Areas of high ground will see widespread hill fog lingering into the afternoon. There will also be outbreaks of drizzle at times though these will ease throughout the day, except in northwest Scotland where heavier rain will move in during the evening. Feeling warm for the time of year.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Looking ahead to Thursday and Friday, the weather will briefly return to a settled regime. Most places will be dry, though there are likely to be showers developing around western coasts. Heavier rain is expected later Friday in the northwest.
