Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Northern and eastern parts of Britain will be windy with outbreaks of rain for much of the day and snow on hills. The rain will become heavy at times across eastern Scotland and northeast England. Southern and western areas will see scattered showers at first but should become drier and sunnier during the day.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:
There will be scattered showers in the north and east on Saturday but southern and western areas will be fine and dry. Rain and strong winds will spread across northern then central parts on Sunday with the south staying dry throughout with some sunshine.
