Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Scotland and northern England will be cloudy at first with outbreaks of locally heavy rain. It will become brighter by the afternoon but showers are expected and these may be heavy and perhaps thundery. Other parts of the UK will see bright spells and locally heavy and thundery showers. It will remain windy.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Further showers will affect the UK on Friday, these most frequent over England and Wales. Saturday will be generally dry at first with some bright periods, but cloud, rain and increasingly strong winds will spread into southern and eastern England during the day.
