Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A bright start for many, with sunshine expected all day in southern and eastern areas. However the north and west will see occasional showers, these heaviest in Scotland, where some will fall as snow. It will be windy, especially in northern England, where gales are expected.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Thursday will be very windy in all areas, with storm force winds in the north. There will be rain, often heavy, in all parts, with hill snow in Scotland.
Friday morning will see the wind easing down and the south will be mainly dry and bright, but more snow is expected in Scotland.
