++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Heavy, showery rain is expected to develop during the morning and move northwards through the day, affecting parts of northern England, southern and eastern Scotland. Some surface flooding may result. Elsewhere will see a mixture of sunshine and showers. Some of the showers may be slow moving and heavy at times. The driest conditions likely to be towards the southeast.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
The unsettled conditions continuing, with further showers for many. Some of the showers could be heavy and thundery and may merge at times to give some longer spells of rain. Feeling cool and turning breezier for all by Monday afternoon.
