Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
On the whole there will be a lot of dry weather around tomorrow with plenty of sunny spells, however at the top and tail end of the country we will have some outbreaks of rain. In the far north a band of showers will very slowly push southwards and in the south a band of rain will skirt the coast.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Into Friday we will continue to see showery outbreaks in the north and south with some of these falling as snow. There will be a fresh northerly wind giving a cool feel. Into Saturday, some more showers but generally dry.
