Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a rather cloudy start to the day, especially in the east. It will steadily brighten up through the morning, allowing long spells of sunshine to develop away from northeastern coasts. It will feel very warm in the sunshine, with the south coast and southwestern areas in particular feeling hot.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Most areas will turn hotter again and more humid. It will generally be fine at first, but isolated, heavy showers or thunderstorms are possible in the south during Monday. During Tuesday, the risk of thunderstorms will extend northeastwards with these likely to become more frequent.
